BEININGER-LYKKE BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED

From Santa Ana Register
Friends of Miss Nora Lykke have thought for some time, that her return from Paris movement at her betrothal to Robert John Deinger of Torrance, and all such friendly suspicions were verified Saturday afternoon at a delightful party given by her three married sisters, Mrs. Aronson, Faecon, Mrs. Fred Merker and Mrs. Carl Edgar, who presented a bridge luncheon at St. Ann's Inn.

The three lovely young matrons had planned an autumnal effect for their luncheon tables, each of which blazed in one of the rich shades of the season, with all such details as place cards and nut cups to harmonize. But for the table where Miss Lykke was seated, they chose bridal white. A graceful swan, eloquent of Lohengrin's bridal scene, led the way for a wedding scene in miniature, complete from bride and groom, to the lavishly attired brides and wedding girl and ring bearer.

Bridge Contest
Following the delicious luncheon, return was made to the Inn for, where in the meantime, card tables had been placed for bridge. In this, first prize of a handsome luncheon set which had been brought from London, was secured by Mrs. Stanley Reinhaus. A quaint dinner bell was won by Mrs. LaMont, McFadden, an Italian work towel by Mrs. Eugene Robinson, and a dainty handkerchief, by Mrs. William Friend. A sparkling fruit punch was served while the guests remained at the card tables. The bridal announcement which all anticipated, was made at the beginning of the luncheon hour, when place cards were found to have a little note, bearing the news of a wedding to take place on December 7, the 43rd wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke.

Dainty Paris Frocks
The honoree, whose beauty and charm make her a general favorite, chose to wear one of her trousseau gowns for the announcement party, a Paris model given the romantic name of "Romeo and Juliet." It was of flat crepe in poudre green, and exquisitely designed and draped. Her sister, Miss Henrietta Lykke, who had accompanied her to the American Legion convention in Paris, also wore a French frock, "Four von Pleis," in rose and beige shades with a clever little rose hat to match.

Mr. Deinger, Miss Nora's fiancé, is the son of Mrs. Mary Deinger of Owatonna, Minn., and his home is in Torrance where he is assistant cashier of the First National bank.

Guests asked to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Faecon, Mrs. Merker and Mrs. Edgar, included in addition to their sister and honoree, their mother, Mrs. H. P. Lykke, the Misses Henrietta Lykke, Louise Tubbs, Charles Cummings, Mildred Murphy, Ruby Cameron, Mildred Smith, Ruth Stewart, Grace White, Gertrude Potts, Julia Magill and Pearl Macell.
